ROADS CANNOT FIND WORK
FOR ALL MEN WHO APPLY

Workers Deny Grunau Statement They Had Voted to Carry on Strike

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 14.—Admission by John Grunau, leader of switchmen, yardmen and en-ginesmen in the Chicago switch-
men's strike, that the walkout had ended,
was made public today. At meetings
called by the men last night, majorities were reported in favor of returning to their former positions.

Railroad managers reported more applications from their former employees for work. The men are returning, the road officials announced,
as new employees.

Grunau Denied It
Early yesterday morning members of the rank and file announced that an overwhelming vote in favor of ending the war against the railroads
had been taken by the switchmen's union. Immediately the members of John Grunau's "outlaw" union began seeking their old jobs. At 3 o'clock Monday morning the strike,
which had hampered the railroads almost from the day the government
released control of them, was history.

Then came the announcement from Grunau that the strike was not over
—that the final count of the vote
showed the men wished to continue it.

Rush Back to Work
"We don't care what Grunau says
about the count of the votes; we went to go back to work and we're going back."

That was the statement made by John Mosier, former Northwestern
switchman, as, with more than fifty others, he approached a terminal superintendent yesterday and asked for a job.

It was echoed by thousands of other railroad employees who had gone "on their own" with Grunau's "outlaws,"
as they flocked into terminals in the Chicago switching district seeking employment.

Jam Keeps Up All Day
The rush for jobs began about 6
a. m. and continued throughout the day.

More men applied for work than
the railroads could find room for, but the railroad executives indicated that all the desirable men eventually would be placed and that those who made good would not suffer greatly,
even though they will not get their old seniority right back if they
"stick to the job from now on."

HOPE OF SETTLING IRISH
QUESTION GONE IF MAYOR
DIES SAYS DUBLIN WRITER

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Negotiations
for settlement of the Irish question, which are described as the most promising yet initiated, will be nullified if Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, dies in Brixton prison, says
the Dublin correspondent of The Times.

Secret negotiations on the basis of the self-government within the empire
have been going on the last three weeks between the most prominent leaders of modern opinion and influential republicans, he declares. The moderates have been told, he adds,
that nothing further can be done while MacSwiney is near death, and if the lord mayor dies the last hope of settlement on the proposed basis will disappear.

Appointment of an additional under-secretary for Ireland has been decided upon by the government. It will be his duty to deal with all problems which may arise in the six counties of the province of Ulster, the unionist stronghold in Ireland.

MacSwiney Still Conscious
LONDON, Sept. 14.—Terence Mac-Swiney, lord mayor of Cork, was appreciably weaker this morning as a result of his hunger strike, says a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination league. It states Mac-Swiney had a very bad night, but he was still conscious and his mind was active. Today is the thirty-third day since he began his hunger strike in protest against his arrest by British authorities in Cork.

Reports to the home office from prison physicians did not agree with
the bulletin issued by the league.
They reported there was virtually no change in MacSwiney's condition and that he had passed a restless night.

DECLARES HARDING WOULD SERVE UNDER RULE OF THE SENATE

Senatorial Oligarchy Would Dictate How He Should Run
Nation Says Hitchcock

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—United States Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock
of Nebraska, speaking before the Ark-wright club here today declared Governor Cox, if elected, would exercise
the powers of his office, as they were exercised by Wilson, Roosevelt, Cleveland, Lincoln and other strong men of both parties, while Senator Harding,
if elected, would exercise his presidential powers "under some form of dictatorship by a senatorial oligarchy
in control of party machinery."

"If this question can be fairly considered by the voters," he said, "it seems to me a majority will decide in favor of an individual president, rather than a president acting as a figure-
head for a combination of senators."
"The republican managers, relying on the belief that their party is the strongest, have adopted a platform which may be interpreted in several different ways. After the election,
on a number of important issues, they have nominated a candidate of their own choice and have restricted him to his front porch. They have brought before him hand-picked audiences for formal addresses, and meanwhile have devoted their energies to the collection and use of campaign funds to be used in organizing for the campaign.
They are living up to the idea that all that is necessary is to get out the party strength to insure a party victory."

The democratic program, the senator said, consists of a direct appeal
of the people of the country without regard to party, on the issues of the
day.

"The democratic platform is bold
and outspoken," he continued, "while
the republican platform is ambiguous
and doubtful."
"Senator Harding says he believes in party government and if he is elected
the republican party will govern.
It sounds as though the rank and file
of the republican party were to reach
important decisions and shape party policies. The real meaning of it, however, is that the party caucus of United States senators in Washington, under the circumstances run the government
just as they ran the late republican convention."

MOVIES WORSE THAN
DIME THRILLER SAYS
WASHINGTON PASTOR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Motion
pictures and landladies were denounced today as contributing causes
for juvenile delinquency by Rev. J.
W. R. Maguire, of St. Victor college,
the conference of Catholic Charities. The pastor, he said, taught children to be unduly sophisticated, while land-
ladies tolerated poor housing facilities.

The dime novel of a generation ago, with its hair-raising stories of blood and thunder, the speaker said,
was infinitely less harmful than the modern "movie" thrillers. Unlike the present day photoplay, he said,
the old paper back novel, he said,
always came to grief.

PRICES OF GRAIN
CRASH DOWNWARD
IN DAY'S TRADING

Wheat Drops Nearly Ten Cents
and Market is Near Demoralization at Close

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Big breaks
in the price of wheat, corn and oats
took place today, started by acute depression of sterling exchange. Wheat dropped as much as 9 1/2 cents a bushel, and closed semi-demoralized at the bottom figures of the day, $2.39 1/2
to $2.40 for the December delivery and $2.30 1/2 for March.

The smash in prices carried corn
down five and three-quarters cents
and oats five and five-eighths cents.
Shutting down of several food manufacturing plants added to depression,
and so, too, did reports that an instruction from Europe seaboard wheat
exporters had suddenly withdrawn from the market. Besides, there were indications that rural holders of crop
were liquidating, influenced by prospects of a huge crop.

The greater part of the decline came just before the market closed. Prices tumbled rapidly in the absence of any aggressive support.

Assertions that seaboard exporters
had entirely withdrawn from the market led to severe weakness later. The market closed almost demoralized,
7 1/2 to 9 1/2 cent lower, with December $2.39 1/2 to $2.40 and March $2.30 1/2.

INDUSTRIAL CRISIS
PASSED IN ITALY
SAYS ROME PAPER

ROME, Sept. 14.—Italy has passed
through the crisis of the metal workers' movement, according to the Gazzetta d'Italia. In commenting on the situation, the newspaper says:
"Until last Saturday we were on the edge of bolshevism. The danger seems to be removed and leaders of workmen have become more heralds of necessity to produce more. We shall see whether they are able to induce their followers to do so."

Government officials are attacked
by the Idea Nazionale, which says
their attitude corresponds to abdication to a stranger, who commands
from Moscow and from whom funds
have been asked for communist propaganda.

THE FAR WEST CALL

U. S. Must Help Solve Oriental Immigration Question Senator Tells Californians

ANSWERS DEMOCRATIC CHARGE
OF A "SENATE OLIGARCHY"

Declares Republicans Forced Efficiency in Government

MARION, Ohio, Sept. 14.—To a delegation of Californians, Senator Harding declared today that the nation "must stand behind" the states
of the Pacific coast to relieve them
of the difficulties of Oriental immigration and must see that only such aliens as can be assimilated and included with thorough Americanism are admitted.

The dangers of racial conflict, said
the republican nominee, much be recognized and provision made to reduce them to a minimum. He suggested that such steps could be taken without offensive reflection on any race and without raising the question of racial inferiority or inequality.

In his speech to the Californians the senator suggested the necessity of a protective tariff levy to aid American farmers and replied at length to democratic charges of a republican "senate oligarchy." He reminded the voter that senators are elected by popular vote, and declared the democratic leaders were opposing senate influence because they wanted to perpetuate autocratic personal government.

Governor Stephens acted as spokesman for the delegation and emphasised the keen interest of the west coast
in the Oriental question, the tariff
and other issues.

In his reference to the senate oligarchy charge, the nominee declared it was not surprising that the democrats should be displaced, because congress had exercised its constitutional powers during "seven-year period of fine words, much dictation, tinkering
with business, and unwarranted assumption," by the executive.

Forced Efficiency

"The senate oligarchy as they call it, and the 'oligarchy' of the house of representatives," he continued, "forced them toward efficiency in making
war and forced them toward efficiency, though belated, in reconstruction for peace, and interfered to stay
the prodigal waste of taxpayers' money
and prevented America from being caught in the snares and tangles of their blundering in Paris."

Discussing the race question the candidate said: "It is not doubt that Americans on the coast are troubled about the Oriental question. That question raises every interpretation of our western 'America first' for it involves four sets of obligations. It involves our obligations to great foreign powers; it involves the obligations of all America toward one group of American states and their products. But it also involves the obligations of that group of states to the nation."

"There is abundant evidence of the dangers which lurk in racial differences."

Stand Back of West

"In spite of the honor of these Oriental peoples and in spite of their contributions to the world's advancement, it is conceivable that they may be so different in racial characteristics or in manner of life or practice
from other peoples of equal honor and achievement, that no matter whether it be on the soil of one or upon the soil of the other, the differences, without raising any question of inferiority,
superiority or inequality, may create
a belief they have created upon our Pacific coast, without blame to either side, a friction that must be recognized. The nation owes it to the Pacific coast to recognize that fact.
The nation owes it to the Pacific coast states to stand behind them
in necessary measures consistent with our national honor, to relieve them of their difficulties."

"No one can tranquilly contemplate
the future of this republic without an anxiety for abundant provision for admission to our shores of only the immigrant who can be assimilated and thoroughly imbued with the American spirit."

"As a people and a nation, we do have the moral, the natural and the legal international rights to determine who shall or shall not enter into our country and participate in our activities. With a new realization of the necessity of developing a soul distinctly American in this republic we favor such modification of our immigration laws and such changes in our international understandings and such a policy relating to those who come
among us, as will guarantee to the citizens of this republic not only assimilability of alien born, but the adoption by all who come of American
standards, economic and otherwise,
and a full consecration to American practices and ideals."

G. O. P. CARRIES
MAINE ELECTION
BY RECORD VOTE

Plurality by Parkhurst for Governor Larger by 17,000
than Vote Any Candidate Ever Received

MAJORITY OF WOMEN VOTED
THE REPUBLICAN TICKET

Democratic Leaders Refuse to Comment on Relation of Vote to Presidency

PORTLAND, Maine, Sept. 14.—
Maine gave an overwhelming plurality to the republican ticket in the state election yesterday. With a total vote larger by 35,000 than the biggest ever previously cast in the state,
Frederick H. Parkhurst, of Bangor, was elected governor by a margin of 65,000 over his democratic opponent
Bertrand G. McIntyre, of Norway.
The plurality was 17,000 more than
the largest ever obtained by any other gubernatorial candidate in the history of the state.

Four republican congressmen were elected by large pluralities. Congressman Wallace H. White, Jr., John A.
Peterson and Ira G. Hersey, retained
their seats, and in the First district, where congressman Louis B. Good-
all, republican, did not seek re-election, Carroll L. Beedy of Portland, republican, was chosen.

Every member of the senate will be a republican while of a membership
of 151 in the state house of representatives, the democrats succeeded in electing fifteen. In the last legislature there were two democratic senators and forty-one democratic representatives.

The vote for governor, with returns from forty small towns and plantations missing was: Parkhurst (R), 132,817; McIntyre (D) 68,264.

Women Vote Increases Total

The increase in the total vote was very largely accounted for by the presence of women at the polls. Women showed themselves eager to grasp the opportunity of exercising their new privilege and they were underestimated by a heavy downpour of rain. The result showed most of them voted the republican ticket.

Democratic state leaders were silent
as to possible significance of the vote with relation to the presidential election in November. Colonel Parkhurst, after being assured of his election, pointed out that the campaign had been "vigorously contested
by the democrats on national issues,"
and said the outcome gave "most conclusive evidence that the voters
of Maine resent the autocratic and un-American administration that the democrats have given us." He declared that it was "equally an endorsement of Harding and Coolidge."

National Issues Involved

Matters of merely state importance
were hardly touched upon in the campaign. Both parties strove to effect
a good showing in the "barometer
state," the only state to hold its election in advance of the voting for president. For the republicans addresses were delivered by Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts, vice presidential nominee; Senator
Lodge, Senator Proctor of New York and others. The democrats sent into the state Franklin D. Roosevelt, candidate for vice president; secretary
Daniels, former secretary William C.
McAdoo, and Homer S. Cummings, former chairman of the democratic national committee. The chief theme of all was the league of nations.
In addition to the fifteen democratic members of the house of representatives shown to have been elected
by the complete returns, four members of the incoming house carried the nomination of both democrats and republicans.

Hafding Sends Congratulations

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 14.—Senator
Harding wired his congratulations to Governor-elect Parkhurst today in the following message:

"Heartly congratulations on your
overwhelming and gratifying victory.
It augurs well for the party in November."

G. O. P. Paid Says White

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Commenting on the result of yesterday's election in Maine, George White, chairman of the democratic national committee, issued the following statement:

"This is the republicans' day of rejoicing. They planned, labored and paid for it, and I would not by any attitude of mine rob them of any of their meed of joy. With a splendid organization and with the expenditure
of every effort possible to great finances, they prepared the republican state of Maine for this state election in the hope of persuading the country
that the trend is heavily republican
in the national race."

"Had the democratic party been presented the same opportunity in a state where the trumpet call of democracy means as much as the clarion
of republicanism in Maine, we should have made as nearly the same efforts made."

AGAINST THE SOVIET

Dispatches Reaching London and Paris Tell of Killing of Six of Bolshevik High Commissioners; Report Believed True in Paris

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Serious anti-bolshevik rioting is taking place in Petrograd, it is declared in reports from that city received in Berlin, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from the German capital, places of refuge.

PARIS, Sept. 14.—Rioting took place in Petrograd when news of the soviet military defeats reached there, according to a report to the French foreign ministry received through Copenhagen. The rioting, the report declared, assumed the proportions of a counter-revolution, and many of the commissioners were killed.

At the foreign office, it was said credit was given the Copenhagen dispatch, except for one portion of it which declared the soviet fleet had mutinied
and fired on Kronstadt.

Rods on Offensive

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The Russian soviet forces, it is reported from Moscow, have taken the offensive on both sides of Brodsky, near the old Galician border, and are marching on Lemberg, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Berlin, dated Monday.

The Polish and Ukrainian troops, it is declared, have been driven back

FRANCE SELLS ARMY STOCKS BOUGHT FROM U. S. TO MEET DEBTS

Army Supplies Taken Over When Americans Left France to be Re-Sold

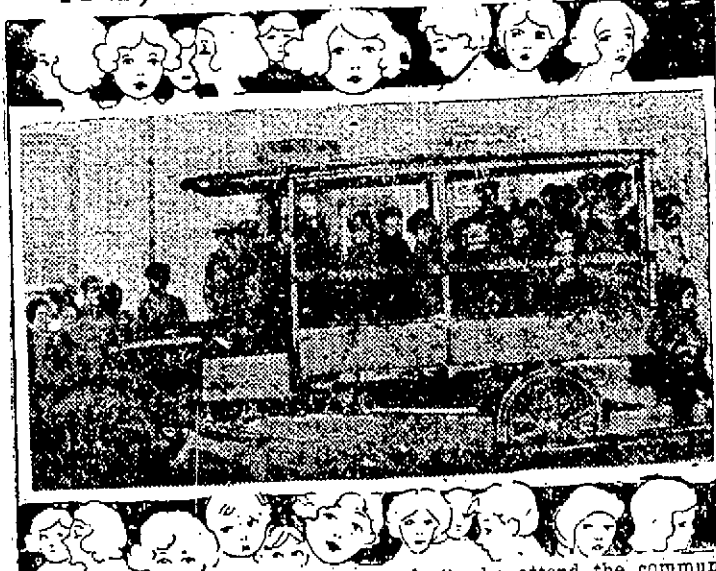

PARIS, Sept. 14.—The French ministry of finance, it is learned, will pay a part of the $250,000,000 due in October from France on the Anglo-French loan from the proceeds of a re-sale of the American army stocks which it purchased, and upon which New York bankers will advance sums reported to amount to $25,000,000. The Harris Brothers company of Chicago has engaged to become the sales agents of the French government for the disposal of stocks estimated at more than $150,000,000 in value.

The stocks include an immense variety of articles, including woolen goods, harness, wagon wheels, hardware, canned foods, and tools, a considerable quantity of which probably will be re-sold in the United States, some in South America and the remainder in Europe. The French government took over all the American army supplies left in France for the sum of $400,000,000.

The government has taken from the stocks all the automobiles, railway material and various stores of timber and other commodities readily salable, but has found it difficult to dispose of the rest. The French people unwilling as a rule to buy tin, tin goods, woolen underwear, hosiery, tools, and other manufactured articles among the supplies made for the American army, the Frenchmen who examine the woolen underwear, for instance, find the pattern slightly different from that which they are accustomed to wear and prefer to pay more for their home product. Warehouses covering several acres at Issoudun are filled with American wagon wheels with steel hubs and the best white oak spokes, which have no sale in France. The French are also suspicious of the canned fruit and vegetables from abroad.

The American agents have agreed to dispose of the stocks upon a graduated scale of percentage, this procedure has been reported to the French government by the New York bankers whose advice was requested. It is understood that the interest rate on the $25,000,000 to be advanced to France by New York bankers will be eight per cent.

RAISE IN RATES DENIED ROADS IN NEW YORK STATE

State Commission Refuses to Follow Action of Interstate Commerce Commission

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—A loss of $11,000,000 to $12,000,000 by the principal railroads of this state is expected as a result of the New York public service commission in refusing to permit intrastate railroad passenger rates to be raised to conform with increases recently granted by the interstate commerce commission. Testimony to this effect was given today by L. V. Porter, assistant controller of the New York Central railroad lines, before Chief Examiner Wilbur La Rue, Jr., of the interstate commerce commission, investigating the action of the New York state commission.

O. L. Hunter, vice president of the Trunk Lines Association, testified that the state commission's action would be reflected in the railroad rate of the entire country and would result in a partial nullification at least of the interstate commerce commission's order.

NOVEL LOVE STORY IN O'HARA'S PLAY HERE THIS WEEK

The love theme of a play, or, as it is usually termed "heart interest" is recognized as one of the prime factors in making the piece a success. A play without a love story might just as well go out of business, as an auto without its gasoline. Anna Nichols Duffy in writing "Springtime in Mayo," for Elsie O'Hara America's favorite actor-singer, whom Augustus Pittou Inc. presents at the La Crosse theater Friday and Saturday well determined that her work would not lack this important element of success for she utilized the most novel and original love story in the weaving of the plot. "Springtime in Mayo," as will be observed from the title, has its scenes in Ireland. It is alive with real people, ripples through three acts of absorbing interest and ends delightfully.

It serves admirably as an instrument for the display of Mr. O'Hara's ingratiating manner and personality. As usual, he will be conspicuously successful with the new songs that have been provided for him.

In many places in England it is still customary to present each pallbearer at a funeral with a pair of gloves.

The New Lace Day-Shade

One of the reasons for the amazing growth in popularity of the Lace Day-Shade is, we believe, that it appeals to the man of the family as well as his wife.

Women like the Lace Day-Shade for its beauty, novelty and decorative effect. Men like it because they can "roll up the curtain" when they want to open the window. So what started as an ideal glass covering for the sun parlor has become a leading window drapery mode for any room in the house.

We have featured the Lace Day-Shade idea since its inception and have stocked a long line of patterns of net especially designed for Day-Shade use. Let us show you the beautiful patterns used for Lace Day-Shades.

We can say Uncle Joe is an honest and wonderful man, and any boy or girl can depend on what he says. Yours truly, Lucile Strom, Route 1, Box 66, Knoxington, Minn.

Safety Car Operation Starts Wednesday On South Side Lines

Commencing Wednesday, September 15th, the new safety cars will be placed in service.

These cars have front entrance and exit and make near stops.

The present operating schedules remain unchanged.

As the public should pay a sufficient fare to cover the cost of operation plus depreciation and a reasonable return on the money invested in the car line it follows that the efficient and economical operation of the safety car is in the public's interest and therefore the public should co-operate with the company towards the successful introduction and operation of the new system.

First—By having the exact fare ready when the car is boarded. This is highly essential, for if the operator has to pause to make change, the car is delayed by just this amount of time, the schedules are disarranged and valuable time is lost.

Second—By being ready to board the car instantly as soon as it comes to a stop. Both entrance and exit are at the front and the doors are opened automatically as soon as the car comes to a stop.

Third—By being ready to descend as soon as the car stops. You indicate the corner at which you wish to stop by pushing a button. The seats fold up, so that you can get in and out of them instantly. There are no high steps to render egress difficult.

We call attention to these things in order that the mutuality of interest may be served and everything possible done to give La Crosse the best street car service it ever has had. Every time you co-operate with us you make it possible for us to serve you more diligently.

SAVE YOUR SOULS

LAY aside all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engraved word, which is able to save your souls.—James 1: 21.

FADING SIR THOMAS LIPTON

CAPTAIN WILCOX'S tentative challenge to the Capitol for a test of speed with the Hill raises enger anticipation in every red-blooded citizen of the upper river. Steamboat racing was once the king of sports on the Mississippi, and its revival would thrill the valley as no other test of skill and courage could do, for every man, woman and child doubtless knows of the tradition of the fast packets roaring 'round the bends with the sparks pouring out of the stacks and to make it perfect, "a little nigger a-settin' on the safety-valve".

That was in the "palmy days", but there are many men who were a part of them still in La Crosse and other river towns eager to renew their youth by a sight of the treasured spectacle again. And no one who knows the Wisherds, Streckfuses, Blairs and Wilcoxes of the present doubts that the same strain of sportsmanship which inspired their early-day predecessors runs richly in their veins.

Incidentally, wouldn't it make a whale of a news story! Talk about publicity for the valley—here's a mine of it to be had for the doing! How about it, Captain Streckfus?

ANOTHER FORD IDEA

HENRY FORD, who openly confesses his lack of formal education but whom even his worst enemy would not dare to call a fool, has a new idea. It is rather startling in its divergence from accepted ways of economic thinking—but so were a good many valuable additions to civilization. Mr. Ford's notion is that farmers in general waste a lot of time by reason of the seasonal nature of their occupation, and that this time could be put to use with great advantage to both the farmers and the country by employing it in factory production. He proposes locating suitable manufacturing plants, in agricultural regions, so that the farmer in his off-season could work the machinery which turns out such useful items of actual wealth as furniture, automobiles and other manufactures.

Many farmers will be indignant at the suggestion of Mr. Ford that they waste time. They will think of the sun-up to dark labors of planting-time and harvest, and with justice. No one works harder than the farmer when he is at it. But there are times, and they are not all confined to the winter months, when there is little but choring to do around farms. Perhaps Mr. Ford's estimate of twenty or thirty days actual working time in the farm year is low. Certainly it is low for the sort of diversified farming, especially dairying and livestock raising, that is practiced in this section. A farm on which fifty to a hundred head of cows are milked and cared for is a busy place most of the year round, and something like a tread-mill for all hands in the planting and harvesting periods. But there are vast sections of the country where the farming is confined to practically one crop—the wheat regions of the northwest, for example—in which the whole farm year is limited by that crop's schedule. It may easily be that on such a farm twenty or thirty days of work will cover plowing, planting, reaping and threshing. Doubtless the tractor and other labor-saving machinery have greatly cut down the actual time and energy necessary, and may well cut it down still further.

Mr. Ford may have a big idea. It would be interesting to see him experiment with it. It involves some radical departures from accepted manufacturing methods. Heretofore one of the supposedly imperative factors in selecting manufacturing locations has been convenient transportation, both for raw material and product. Another has been the necessity of continuous operation with a stable force of workers. With other supposed requisites of manufacturing, these have been looked upon as obtainable only in cities or towns in which railroads center and where the industrial population is numerous. If Mr. Ford were to attempt to test his suggestion by experiment, he would have to approach these problems from some new angle.

If he could, however, keep overhead and other costs within bounds, despite intermittent operation due to the intervals when his workmen would be busy in the fields; if he could find a way to overcome the excessive cost of long hauls of material and finished goods, it would be apparent that Mr. Ford had discovered something of tremendous good to the country. One of the evils which is annually becoming more threatening to the future of this country is the rush from the country to the city. High wages in the manufacturing centers are drawing off the people whose activities on the farm are necessary to insure a sufficient and moderately-priced supply of food. The present census will show something approaching half of the American people living in cities, where even the most fortunate of them do not produce a fraction of the food they eat. Continue this process, and it will be but a matter of time until those left on the farms will be too few to feed those in the cities. And then look out for trouble!

Some means whereby food producers could continue to feed themselves and the townsfolk and yet share the things which now attract their fellows to the cities would be a great thing for the individual and for the nation. One hopes that Mr. Ford will be moved to try the experiment. Probably there is no man better equipped, both by nature and opportunity, to lead the way; and were the suggestion to prove economically feasible it would be an achievement for the country beside which even the creation of an automobile for the poor man would be out-classed.

CHURCH NEWS

Furnished by the Church News Association

Baptists of the South have two of their foremost leaders on a tour of the world. They are the Rev. Drs. E. Y. Mullens and J. B. Gambrell. They have just met in London the great Baptist leaders of England and Scotland, and most of the pioneers among Baptists of all European countries, including Scandinavia, Germany, Spain, Italy and the Balkans. They report it to have been one of the greatest conferences of Baptist leaders ever held and to have found the seed of Baptist institutions in every country represented, in some of them the fruits ripe beyond anything the American Baptist leaders had dreamed. These Americans are now to go on around the world, conferring with Baptists and inspecting Baptist prospects.

Reports from theological seminaries, opening at the end of September, most of them, indicate conditions in America to be about the same as those in England and Scotland. These conditions are that young men, giving time in the war or stirred by war appeals during their quite early manhood, are not turning to the ministry in any marked numbers. For example, Episcopalian seminaries will have about the same numbers as last year, which was twenty percent below those of the year before. Union Seminary, nominally Presbyterian, shows numbers somewhat above Princeton and McCormick, which are openly Presbyterian, Methodist and Disciples of Christ seminaries are nearly back to normal, but there is no flocking in numbers. Baptist seminaries are fifteen percent below pre-war times, save one or two in the South, which report somewhat more favorable conditions.

WITH THE HELP OF HIS FRIENDS

BY H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

Jack Heaton emerged from the tent and threw himself down on the pine needles beside Tom. "Where's Court?" he asked.

"Chasing a skirt!" Tom's voice held utter disgust. "It's the limit. Here we fellows come up here on a camping trip and the first thing Court does is to fall for a pretty face staring over at the hotel. It's playing the deuce with our plans."

"Righto," returned Jack chucking a pine cone into the lake. "Per schedule, we should now be catching black bass or Lost Loon Pond."

"The funny part of it is," mused Tom, "the lady in question turns an iceberg shoulder on Court. I happened over on the steamer dock and, take it from me, she had no use for him."

Jack sat up quickly. "All the more reason that we should nip it in the bud before he's smitten beyond hope."

"Listen here, boy. What's the first thing a man objects to in a pretty woman?"

"Her belonging to somebody else!" replied Tom promptly.

"Precisely, old top. Same with a woman. She wants to think she's the first and only. Now hark to my little scheme. You put Court wise—don't tell him how you got the information, that isn't necessary—to the fact that the beautiful girl is engaged. Got it? Engaged. Only it would spoil her good times up here if the men got wise. For my end of it, I'll hint to Miss Willis that Court is not what he seems, that he has never got over a youthful love affair. Still loves the fair hand that gave him the mitten. Get me?"

"I get you," said Tom, "but why do you draw the pleasant end of it? And how," he continued suspiciously, "do you know her name and how can you manage a conversation with her?"

"Well said Jack, slightly embarrassed. 'I happen to have met the girl she's staying with, Sally Dalton. Our canoes bumped and—oh, I'll manage all right. Only, for the love of Pete, let's be speedy about it or we'll be too late with our assistance!'"

Few schemers find their opportunities lying so neatly in wait as did Tom and Jack when they paddled over to the hotel that evening, apparently lured by the seductive strains of the three-piece orchestra playing for the weekly hop. First they spied Court leaning against a veranda pillar, gazing morosely at a thin young moon. Then on the lawn they described Miriam Willis in the midst of a little group of men.

"Beat it, Tom," cried Jack, "over to Court, and so long as you're in at all, go in strong. I'll wait my chance with Miss Willis."

Twenty minutes later, Tom had succeeded in reaching the point he desired in his conversation with Court. "She's some looker!" he was saying diplomatically. "Then he set off his bomb. 'Her fiancé is a lucky man!'"

Even in the darkness Tom could feel Court's piercing glance. "Miss Willis engaged?"

"Oh, years and years—three years!" Tom threw it off casually. Then, goaded by Court's silence, he elaborated. "She's keeping it dark up here for various reasons—but she's really absolutely infatuated with him."

"Look here, old chap," Court's voice sounded strangely broken. "Did she—she didn't get you to tell me all this?"

"No—no," Tom retreated in alarm. "Only—it seemed as if you ought to know."

Tom felt Court's hand gripping his shoulder. "Thanks, Tom," he said. "You've been a genuine friend. Then Tom found himself alone."

Tom gazed after him doubtfully. Interfering with love's young dream—by George, he didn't know about it. Then his spirits rose. To-morrow at this time their tents would be pitched on Lost Loon Pond.

Meanwhile Jack, after a series of successful maneuvers which afterwards he recalled with pride, succeeded in rousing up Sally Dalton, having a dance with her, getting an introduction to Miriam Willis, suggesting to the latter that they sit out a dance on the veranda.

Then, after a few remarks on the beauty of the night and the numerousness of the stars, Jack adroitly introduced the subject of Court. "Poor Court," he said, "he tries so hard to enjoy himself. That affair a few years ago, he's never got over it!"

"Indeed! How interesting!" and Miriam's cool voice was more the mercy of police. "Do tell me about it."

FEUD FLAMES—BARBS RAID KLIMACKS KLAN JEFFRIES IS CAUGHT
(Second Day of Story)

The Klimacks Klan of Oakdale High was not a criminal organization, it was not exactly illegal, but it was distinctly secret and definitely under cover.

Three years before a few ambitious fellows had tried to start a fraternity in the school, but "Old Henry" Weatherby, the principal vetoed it. "Poor 'Old Henry'!" His ancient eyes looking through his antique spectacles were not as keen as they once had been. He didn't see very far, and so the same boys were able to get together and form a secret society of their own, a society that satisfied them very well indeed.

Year after year the Klan thrived. Each year a few select ones underwent the terrifying ordeal of initiation, and each year the Klimacks engineered things so that they ran all the affairs of the school.

There were brains in that Klan, no doubt of that. But their astrotic methods were not popular. Among the "Barbarians," as the outsiders were known to them, they went by the name of the "K. K. K. Kique."

Hospitality that had been smouldering for some time broke forth immediately after that 7 to 6 defeat and the Jeffries-Talmadge fracas. George Talmadge was a leading Klimack. Tom Jeffries was a Barb. Other Barbs, Talmadge was Barb. Other Barbs, feeling that Tom had been meanly treated, got their heads together and planned a midnight raid on the headquarters of the "K. K. Kique."

But the Klimacks, as usual, were keen—they were not to be caught. Somehow they heard about the coming raid and were on hand well armed and in good condition.

Shoes, bottles, literature, and even a brick or two, were passed back and forth so violently that a couple of neighbors telephoned for the Oakdale police. Klimacks and Barbarians alike joined in fight. All but one escaped. That one, had tripped over an overturned chair. It was George Jeffries and he was "pinched."

He didn't see very far, and so the same boys were able to get together and form a secret society of their own, a society that satisfied them very well indeed.

Year after year the Klan thrived. Each year a few select ones underwent the terrifying ordeal of initiation, and each year the Klimacks engineered things so that they ran all the affairs of the school.

There were brains in that Klan, no doubt of that. But their astrotic methods were not popular. Among the "Barbarians," as the outsiders were known to them, they went by the name of the "K. K. K. Kique."

Hospitality that had been smouldering for some time broke forth immediately after that 7 to 6 defeat and the Jeffries-Talmadge fracas. George Talmadge was a leading Klimack. Tom Jeffries was a Barb. Other Barbs, Talmadge was Barb. Other Barbs, feeling that Tom had been meanly treated, got their heads together and planned a midnight raid on the headquarters of the "K. K. Kique."

But the Klimacks, as usual, were keen—they were not to be caught. Somehow they heard about the coming raid and were on hand well armed and in good condition.

Shoes, bottles, literature, and even a brick or two, were passed back and forth so violently that a couple of neighbors telephoned for the Oakdale police. Klimacks and Barbarians alike joined in fight. All but one escaped. That one, had tripped over an overturned chair. It was George Jeffries and he was "pinched."

BRITISH TREATMENT OF NEGROES SCORED BY LONDON WRITER

Article in Observer Makes Plea for Justice for Blacks in British East Africa

LONDON.—An indictment of British treatment of negroes in British East Africa is made by Sir H. K. Johnston, writing in the Observer. "Many of the assertions made before the negro conference in New York," he says, "were wild and windy, but it behooves our colonial office to see plain justice done to the 4,000,000 of black and brown people in this 'colony' and 'protectorate.' Numerous instances of bullying, flogging and torture are cited by the writer.

"The natives," he says, "are slow, cunning, and with little, Mohammedan with Christian and Pagan, Somali and Galla with hitherto despised negro in their common hatred of the invading white man, owing to the exceptional cruelties which have stained the white man's record during this period of 15 years. These are not cruelties of soldiers or policemen, of government servants of any kind, but of individual settlers, British or Boer in origin.

"Not only have murders, light-hearted murders, of natives taken place all too frequently, not only have revolting cruelties been committed, but, when the white delinquents are brought up for trial white juries acquit them or white judges inflict trivial penalties, or rebellious public opinion forces a governor to revise a sentence. I doubt if capital punishment for murder has ever been imposed on a white man in East Africa.

"Again, in the great war, thousands and thousands of native porters were compulsorily enrolled by our government or by the military authorities in the unhappily-styled 'protectorate' and the arrangements for their commissariat, their medical treatment, their lodging and clothing have been miserably inadequate, with the result that some 25,000 to 25,000 of them (it was reported) died during the pursuit of the German forces.

"The survivors have retained tongues and the power of speaking, some, even, had been mission educated and when 'born' (Defense of the Realm Act) took her hand off the mail service they have stammeringly told the world outside Africa something of their preventable sufferings and even of singularly callous and sometimes cruel treatment at the hands of the military authorities.

"Now the culminating incident is this. Some two months ago there occurred at Ndumi, in British East Africa, cases of flogging and tortures, so severe that according to a medical officer's report, in some cases the flogged natives died from the torture and flogging. "These crimes seemingly were committed on a European's plantation. The Europeans in what is now termed a 'colony' apparently take the law into their own hands and administer punishment as they please."

Changes in Sail Designs
Sailing vessels have been speeded up recently by making a slight alteration in the shape of the sails, their length being increased at the sacrifice of width. This has been arrived at through the observations made of airplanes where it has been determined that it is the leading portion of an aerofield, or airplane wing, which does the most effective work, this for the reason that it was constantly moving into undisturbed air. The newly designed sails present a relatively longer "leading edge" to the wind and hence more effective work with the same amount of material.

Men's loose were introduced about half a century ago.

YOU'LL GET RID OF BLACKHEADS SURE

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of calomel powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin. Pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get the blackheads out after they become hard. The calomel powder and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

The Screen

La Crosse "Everywoman" with an all star cast. Majestic—Bert Lytell in "Alias Jimmy Valentine." Bijou—Margarita Fisher in "Dangerous Talent." Casino—Mary Miles Minter in "Rosemary Climbs the Heights." Strand—Corinne Griffith in "The Tower of Jewels." Rialto—Charles Ray in "Hayfoot, Strawfoot."

LA CROSSE

"Everywoman" that opened at the La Crosse theater yesterday is a dramatic production that is better suited for the screen than it is for the stage. It requires an expansiveness that the cramped quarters of the stables throughout the country will not permit. It is quite probable that the screen version of "Everywoman" has realized the author's conception of the story better than all productions of play since its premier in New York in 1911.

The title role is portrayed in masterly style by beautiful Violet Heming, the young actress who made such an impression on the stage in "Three Faces East" and "Under Cover." She lends dignity and universality to the piece that the story demands. The rest of the supporting cast are above the usual in merit and includes Theodore Roberts, Wanda Hawley, Bebe Daniels, Monte Blue, Charles Ogle, Raymond Hatton and Tully Marshall. Mr. Roberts as Wealth, Miss Hawley as Beauty, and Miss Daniels as Vice, are perhaps the high spots in an interpretation that is uniformly excellent.

The story of "Everywoman" is well known to most of the theater going people. Everywoman's journey through life in search of love. Scenes of lavish splendor form the setting for this story. The screen needs more pictures like "Everywoman," a film of this kind makes the most skeptic admit, "The Motion Picture is an Art."

entertainment and finished forceful acting, nothing has been seen at the local theatres lately that equals "Alias Jimmy Valentine," starring Bert Lytell. This picture opened a three day engagement at the Majestic yesterday matinee.

From the opening scene to the final close-up, this screen version of Paul Armstrong's crook melodrama held its audience. Mr. Lytell's acting was the feature, and must not be passed over without tribute to his art. Especially noticeable was the fact that the young star exhibited restraint in places where over acting would have spoiled the illusion. The quality, coupled with a dynamic fire in the lighter moments, enhanced the play is no mean measure.

An excellent supporting cast including Viola Vale helps make this picture one of the best seen here in a long time.

RIALTO

Charles Ray in another one of his rube impersonations will be at the Rialto today. "Hayfoot, Strawfoot" is a story of army camp life and the fun the officers have of putting him through the mill is told in a very comical way. In the end he turns a tables and proves he is not such a rube after all, and incidentally takes the girl. Episode No. 7 of "The Evil Eye" completes the bill.

STRAND

Corinne Griffith in "The Tower of Jewels" moves to the Strand for tonight. "The Tower of Jewels" is a story of high class crooks and their workings. It is said that the story is an episode in the life of one of our greatest of women crooks. It brings back to the screen an old time favorite Maurice Costello, who has been out of pictures for the past few years. Lyons and Moran comedy "Caught in the End" completes the bill.

BIJOU

Ever been out of a job? Most folks meet this experience sometime in life, so nearly everybody in the audience at the Bijou was ready to sympathize with Margarita Fisher. Miss Fisher is the pretty little stenographer in "Dangerous Talent" that opened at the Bijou yesterday.

The picture contains plenty of action and is a very pleasing love story. One of the very best things about it is the skilful way in which suspense is steadily augmented from one reel to the next. While tragedy walks into the picture, the dominant note is that of a romantic drama, so that you can go away with a pleasant taste in your mouth and at peace with the world. Episode 18 "Lion Man" completes the bill. This is the final episode of this thrilling serial.

CASINO

America's New Sweetheart, Mary Miles Minter in "Rosemary Climbs the Heights" is the attraction at the Casino today and tomorrow. In this picture Miss Minter plays the role of a struggling girl, who with the help of a friend of the family rises to untold heights. Allan Forest is the leading man and the rest of the supporting cast is good. Episode No. 7 of "The Vanishing Dagger" completes the bill.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS ON IN FOUR STATES TODAY

South Carolina Holds Second
Election to Pick Candidates

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—One of the bitterest primary campaigns in Illinois political history closed today with the election of the two republican factions centering their fight on the gubernatorial nomination. At the polls tomorrow democrats and republicans will nominate candidates for senator, representative and various state offices in addition to the governor. Lecky, former speaker of the Illinois house, who is backed by the gubernatorial nomination by Mayor Thompson, is opposed by John G. Oglesby, lieutenant governor, for whom Governor Frank L. Lowden has taken the name. Two other republicans, Oscar E. Carlstrom and Edward N. Woodruff, are seeking the nomination. On the democratic ticket, James Hamilton Lewis, former senator, is opposed by Robert E. Burke and Peter A. Walker.

In Cook county a hot fight developed in the contest for nomination for state attorney on the democratic ticket. Mayday Hoyne, incumbent, is opposed by four others.

Louisiana Voting

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 14.—Nominees for the United States senate and congress are being selected today by Louisiana democrats in a state-wide primary. Three candidates seeking the seat of Senator Gay, who is a candidate for re-election. They are Representative J. Y. Sanders, Denison Caffery of New Orleans and E. S. Broussard of New Iberia.

Carolina Votes Again

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 14.—A second democratic state-wide primary, created by the failure of any of the candidates for the senatorial nomination in the recent contest to poll a majority of the votes cast, is being held today in South Carolina. Senator E. D. Smith is seeking re-nomination and has as a lone opponent George Warren of Hampton.

White Ribboner Out for Senate

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Enrolled republicans and democrats of New York state went to the polls today to vote for candidates who seek party nominations for the various state offices as well as for United States senator, representatives in congress and seats in both houses of the legislature. United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., is opposed for re-nomination by Mrs. Ella A. Poole, state president of the Women's Christian Temperance union, and George Henry Thorne, city tax commissioner.

Nathaniel L. Miller of Syracuse, former judge of the court of appeals, is opposed by State Senator George F. Thompson for governor.

such description to hazard a diagnosis. So many different causes would have to be considered. By all means consult a physician, or perhaps, a skin specialist, and have him determine the nature of your trouble.

Feet Troubles

My feet become very sore under the toes. The skin is very soft and white and always moist. Could you advise me what to do for this condition?

The Answer

It may be that the foot trouble you complain of is due to excessive perspiration and subsequent decomposition and laceration of the skin. It is suggested that you try bathing the feet regularly each night, and dusting them morning and night with some antiseptic dusting powder. It will probably be best for you to consult a good physician.

Too Anxious

As the liner left the wharf at New York the free and enlightened American citizen heaved a sigh of relief. "I guess I'll have a highball," he said to the steward.

"I guess not, sir," replied the affable steward; "not yet."

"Why not?" said the U. S. A. man. "This is a British ship isn't it?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then why can't I have a drink?"

Red Spots on Hands

I have bright red spots on the palm of my hands. They break and open up like a blister in the summer time, but do not show in the winter. Can you tell me what the cause of this trouble is, and a remedy?

The Answer

It is not essentially a disease of soldiers, but the life led by soldiers offers favorable conditions towards its development. Previous disease (fevers, diarrhea, influenza, gassing, etc.) are predisposing factors. There are several names for the condition: effort syndrome, soldiers' heart, cardiac neurasthenia, functional cardiac, irritability, and others. THAT Mazola is a better and more economical frying fat than lard has again been demonstrated. This time by Mrs. A. Louise Andrea, admittedly one of the greatest experts in modern cookery.

Mrs. Andrea found that 4 lbs. of Mazola, cooked down to 2 lbs., fried 24 1/2 lbs. of potatoes. While 4 lbs. of lard cooked down to 2 lbs. fried only 7 lbs. 14 oz. potatoes.

Tested on fish steaks, one inch in thickness, Mazola fried 25 1/2 lbs., while lard fried only 16 1/2 lbs. of fish.

Of doughnuts cut uniformly 2 3/4 inches in diameter, Mazola fried 208, while lard fried only 138.

This proves conclusively that Mazola goes more than three times as far as lard for frying potatoes; almost twice as far for fish; and two-thirds farther than lard in frying doughnuts.

No housewife who wants to use the most wholesome, as well as the most economical cooking and salad oil, should fail to order Mazola from her grocer today.

CITIZENS' COUNCIL STARTS CAMPAIGN TO MAKE SCOTLAND DRY

Pussyfoot Johnson to Take Part in Drive; Antis Arrange Opposition Meetings

EDINBURGH.—The campaign to make Scotland dry has been started in earnest by the National Citizens' Council. Under the provisions of the temperance (Scotland) act which enables the electors to decide by a vote whether the country shall go dry, requisition forms demanding a poll on the no-license question have been issued. In order to secure a poll ten per cent of the electors in each area must sign the requisition forms. Should this be forthcoming the next stage will be the taking of the vote which will decide whether the people shall have no licenses, or fewer licenses in their own areas, or there shall be no change.

Temperance enthusiasts believe that although Scotland may not go dry this year the "no-license" resolution will be carried in many municipal wards. They have obtained the services of W. E. (Pussyfoot) Johnson who will address a number of meetings next month. On the other hand, the liquor tradesmen are also arranging for a series of meetings at which prominent speakers will describe the effects of prohibition in America. The dealers charge that the act aims "a deadly blow at the hard won victory of the people."

Not 'Appy

A traveling company performed in a tent on a wet and cold evening. The leading actor took the part of Appius Claudius, and he got very wet through a leak in the tent.

On leaving the stage he was accosted by an admiring dame intent on congratulating him.

"Are you Appius Claudius?" she inquired.

"No, madam," the actor replied, sternly; "I'm as miserable as sin."

DYING MAN FOUND IN A STOLEN CAR TAKEN AT WINONA

Holdup Man and Car Thief Expires Soon After Posse Finds Missing Auto

LA CROSSE PHONE OPERATOR FIGURES IN LOCATING CAR

Chase Begun at Winona Ends at Theresa, Wisconsin

With a stranger shot through the stomach and dying in the tannery, the automobile of L. G. Roesser, stolen from Winona Friday night, was found at Theresa, Wis. It was identified definitely two hours after it was discovered because of the alertness of a La Crosse long-distance telephone operator.

The shooting and death of the stranger is an unsolved mystery. A few minutes after he had died a second stranger called from a farmhouse two miles south of Theresa, asking how his pal was. He said his companion and himself were seized by men who were reported to have attempted to burglarize the Theresa bank.

The descriptions of both men correspond with those which were gained by the authorities here. The dead man is said to be between 25 and 30 years old. The stranger who phoned from the farmhouse was short and somewhat older. His head was covered with blood and his hands and face cut. He has disappeared and a search for him has not been successful, news dispatches at noon declared.

The dead man has been identified as one of a pair who during held up and robbed the Kinkor roadhouse at Fond du Lac September 3, taking $100 from the proprietor at the point of a gun. He was wearing the same clothes he wore at that time. Fond du Lac police declare. The officials recognized him also as the man who had been fined in the Theresa court three weeks ago for speeding. At that time he was driving a car with a Michigan license number, they declare.

Search for Pal
The man who phoned from the farmhouse in his telephone message declared that he had been carried away in an automobile and that he had later been thrown out. He said he would return to Theresa but failed to appear. A search followed.

In the automobile beside the dead man were found two boxes of cartridges and two suits of clothes stolen from the Theresa general store Saturday night. It is said $10 in cash was also taken from the store. In the stranger's pockets were found a $50 bill and some small change. There was nothing which would give the slightest clue to his identification, it is said.

According to incomplete reports from Theresa, it had been rumored around the village that the bank was to be robbed early Sunday morning. A party was organized with the idea of frustrating the supposed robbery. Instead of finding robbers at work at the bank, the party found the stranger in the car. He was shot through the stomach and was moaning. He reached over the seat with his feet and sounded the horn on the car.

Physicians were immediately summoned but the man died 20 minutes later.

"I am shot," he moaned. "Give me some water."

Gives No Name
Every attempt to ascertain his identity was met with the response: "Got help me, I am dying."

The machine was a grey colored Cadillac, four passenger sport model. Its mileage was a little more than 2,000 miles. The license number was a Wisconsin number, 20211. The authorities learned this license number was issued to a resident of Dodge, and they sent a description over long distance phone, through La Crosse and to Dodge. They wanted to learn if the car had been stolen.

The La Crosse long distance operator who handled this message, had sent out the police descriptions from Winona Friday night. She recognized a similarity between the two descriptions and called Chief W. C. Norton of the Winona police at 6 a. m.

EXPERT COCKTAIL MIXERS FROM U. S. INVADING LONDON

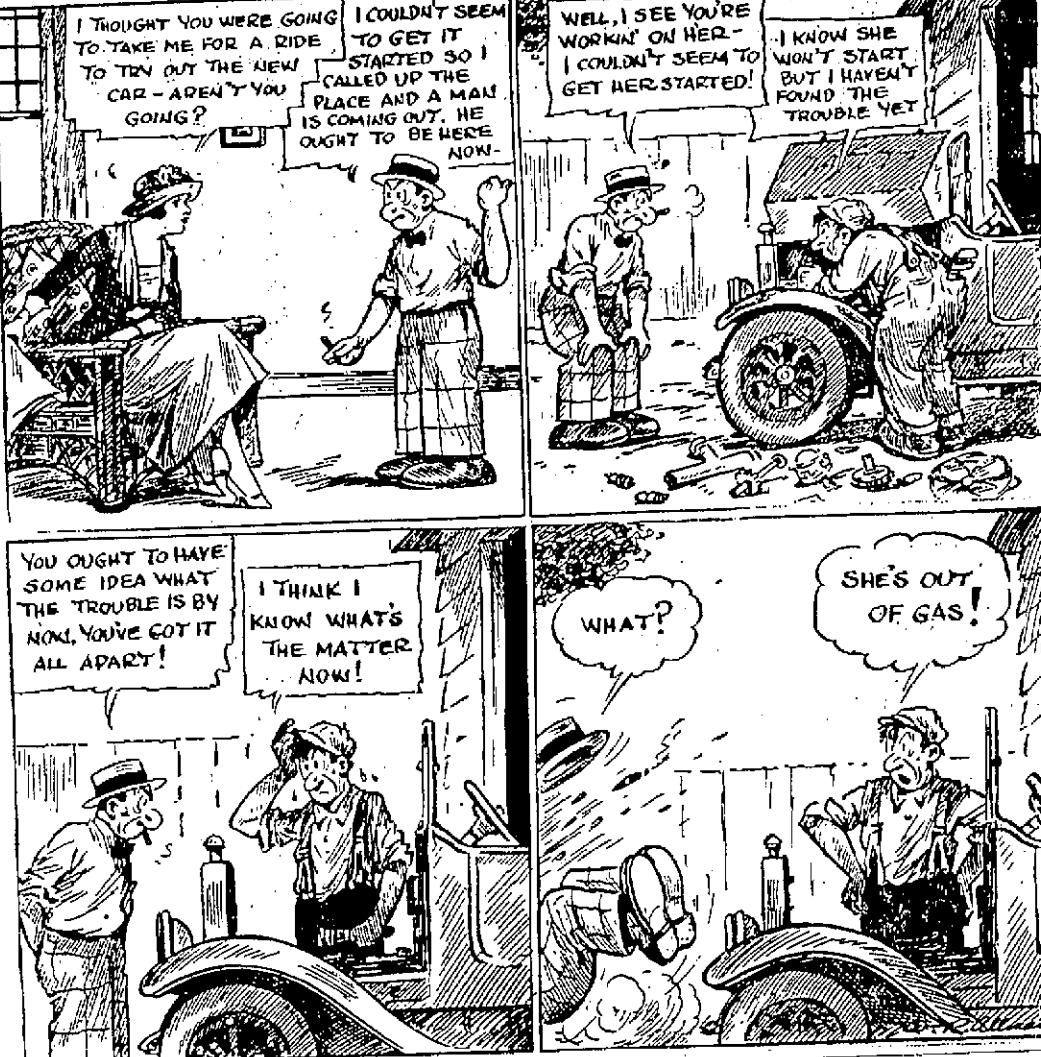

Ability to Mix Jazzy Drinks Places Many Bartenders from the States

LONDON. — American bartenders are invading England and getting jobs in the more pretentious bars and clubs frequented by young men because of their ability to mix cocktails. Older Englishmen still stick to their "scotch and soda" but the younger generation is getting the cocktail habit.

One bartender when applying for a position at a big club told the secretary he could mix 500 different drinks. The Englishman viewed him with that expression so familiar to Americans when they try to tell English folks of what a glorious country America is, but hired him anyhow. He has not run through his alleged repertoire yet but has made good.

Machine Does Accurate Filing
Filing is an art that not all workmen have mastered. In the hands of an ignorant or indifferent workman the work or the tool may be ruined in a few strokes and workmen who do not know how to handle the file will never be able to perform a satisfactory task of metal filing. To prevent the waste of time and material a French construction engineer has invented a machine which will do this character of work with mathematical accuracy.

The file is placed vertically in a machine very like that of a foot-operated jig saw. It receives an up-and-down motion; in descending, its

Sunday. A call to Theresa by Chief Norton, which had to be repeated at La Crosse, brought the information that the serial number of the Roesser car, No. 33,102, was the same one which the Theresa officials found on the car in which the dying stranger had been discovered.

Officials of the insurance agency which had written the protective policy for Mr. Roesser, were notified of the finding of the car and they set out to confirm the police reports. They learned through their Milwaukee office that the car was in good condition, had plenty of oil and that the mileage registered was a little more than 2,000 miles. The Roesser car had been driven about 1800 miles before it was stolen from Winona Friday.

Suspect Gang Row

The Theresa officials propounded the theory that the dead man was a member of a gang of automobile thieves and that he had fallen out with his companions with the result that he was shot down. The Fond du Lac police advance the theory that the gang of thieves had a row and the dead man was kicked out and shot. A mystery surrounds the entire affair and it will probably not be cleared until the dead man's partner who telephoned from the farmhouse, or another member of the gang, if there was one, is apprehended and questioned.

We Never Shut Down

Live stock keeps coming to market and we have to keep buying it and putting it through our plants whether conditions are good or poor.

Swift & Company has no control over the quantity of live stock shipped to market. Live-stock producers ship their animals to the big stock-yards markets, where they are sold through commission men who represent the shippers.

The result is that the live-stock supply fluctuates from week to week. We have to buy the animals, however many or few there are; and they have to be handled without delay.

We cannot hold dressed beef, lamb, mutton, veal, fresh pork, or any other fresh perishable meats, but have to sell them at the prevailing market prices within a few days. If we try to sell at half a cent under the prevailing prices, retailers would naturally buy from us as long as our supply lasted, and that supply would be used up very quickly. On the other hand, if we try to sell for half a cent higher than the market prices, the retailers, who shop around, would buy from our competitors and we would have our fresh meat left on our hands. We have to sell our products every day at prevailing market prices whatever those prices may be.

Half a cent up or down in the wholesale price means the difference between profit and loss to us.

Let us end mistakes in shaving

Hot towels and finger-rubbing no longer necessary

LET us all know the present day facts on shaving. There is no need to use hot towels to soften the beard. Nor to rub the beard. Nor to submit our face to a lather that dries quickly on the face and irritates the skin.

Once such things were considered a necessary evil in shaving. But they are without reason today. For science has found a better way of preparing the beard for the razor. An easier way. And a quicker way. It lies in the use of Palmolive Shaving Cream. And to show what a big difference it makes in shaving, we are sending a trial tube free to every man who requests it.

Quick action

The secret of softening the beard is in emulsifying the oil that coats every hair of the beard. And Palmolive lather instantly emulsifies that oil. Then the beard—a horny substance—quickly absorbs water. This makes the hair easy to cut. With the ordinary cream or soap you have to supply hot towels or rub the beard before it can be thoroughly moistened.

Lasting lather

Palmolive lather stays moist and foamy on the face for 10 minutes. You don't have to relather as you do with the ordinary cream.

This lather is also a lotion. It contains palm and olive oils. Thus your skin is soothed and refreshed in shaving. You need no other lotion.

A new kind of a shave

You'll change your whole conception of shaving when you use Palmolive. And this we urge you to do at once. A trial tube will be sent free. There is no charge of any kind, not even for postage. So be sure to take advantage of this opportunity. Mail the coupon now.

BROOKLYN CLUB INCREASES LEAD FIVE FULL GAMES
NEW YORK Sept. 14.—The Brooklyn team of the National League by its double victory over the Chicago Cubs today increased its lead in the pennant race to five full games over Cincinnati and New York.

As the teams are now standing, Brooklyn has fourteen more games to play; Cincinnati, twenty-two; and New York, twenty-eight. Should the Superbas win half their remaining games, seven, it will be necessary for the Reds to win sixteen of their twenty-two and the Giants fourteen of their eighteen in order to tie Brooklyn. On the other hand, if Cincinnati and New York win only half of their remaining games, it will be necessary for Brooklyn to win only four more games to capture the pennant.

All the leaders in the American League won their games today so that there was no change in the relative standings. New York leading Cleveland by half a game but trailing the Indians by one percentage point.

FEW NEW ADDITIONS TO 1920 LOG OF PEERLESS PERFORMERS IN SPORTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The 1920 log of the jolly old clipper, Championship, shows very few mishaps to date, compared with the book of 1919, and not many new names in the select ship's company of peerless performers in various lines of sport.

Babe Ruth, Jack Dempsey, Man o' War and Bennie Leonard—selecting champions at random—have become better and better. The great and only home run king, who caused such a riot in the winter gossip league with his record of twenty-nine home runs for 1919, has become greater as the schedule 1920 has slipped by.

Dempsey is so good that the best men that can be found for him are all regarded as setups.

Man o' War has smashed three world records and a pair of American marks and is so good that he could run a race in hobbles with Fatty Arbuckle up and still be the odd-on choice. Nobody in the lightweight division can lay a glove on Leonard and he would carry a lot of money into the ring if he should fight in his real class of weight for Jack Britton's championship.

Mike O'Dowd lost his crown to Johnny Wilson, but that was an unfortunate event because nobody but the managers of 165 pound middleweights has paid any attention to this division since a bullet stopped Stanley Ketchel.

It seemed also that Earl Caddick lost his championship to Joe Stecher, but Joe's name was no new one and his victory was pretty well expected.

So it was in the national amateur open golf tournament, too, in which the new champion, Chick Evans, took Davidson Heron's title. Evans had been a champion before and so had Francis Ouimet, whom he defeated for the title, so there was not much chance of a new name in the books of champs.

Tennis may be regarded as an exception and then again it seems to conform to the season's rule for William T. Tilden, and don't forget the "second" after this Philadelphia monicker had won the nominal world's championship before he ever went into the national amateur open tournament at Forest Hills, to defeat William M. Johnston. And the names of the principal point winners on the American Olympic are not new ones, but names which have been entered opposite various championship performances for two or three years.

It would be a bold and forward prediction to say that the baseball champions of 1919 will be repeated this year, but it would be bolder still to state that they will not. It's a ding-dong dog fight in both leagues and the Reds and White Sox still have a good chance. The Reds' a fifty-fifty chance with the Robins and the White Sox a three-way chance with the Indians and Yanks.

However, baseball will hold for the purposes of this research until the season ends, which will not be long.

HOW HEROES HAVE BEEN MADE IN GRAND-AMERICANS

BY PETER CARNEY
Editor National Sports Syndicate

Winning the Grand American Handicap is the ambition of nine-tenths of the transshooters of the United States and Canada.

Figuring on getting a good handicap and being "right" when the entrants takes place causes hundreds of shooters to enter each year. Two-thirds of the entrants haven't the slightest chance for victory, but you would have a terrible job to tell two-thirds of the shooters this.

The entrants are of both sexes and age from 11 to 85 years. Youth is ambitious and some of the older men only give up trying when they are taken away. Where there is life there is hope. It doesn't make any difference what happens this year you will find the same gang back again the following year and a few recruits.

A number of Grand American Handicaps have been won in ways that bordered on the spectacular and men who had never been heard of became famous overnight. In 1917 Charley Larson won the championship of Wisconsin. He would have been to go to do this, yet no one paid any attention to him until he beat Mark Orle for first place in the Grand American and then beat the Illinois crack in the shoot off. If Larson had been five minutes later getting to the ground that day he would not have become famous. He got to the grounds as his squad went to the mark and they waited for him.

In 1918 John Dean Henry, a barber of Bismarck, Ind., came to the Grand American with George Cuppy, one of the greatest slow ball pitchers that ever lived. Henry occasionally broke 90 in 100, but on this occasion he broke 97 and tied with Hank Pendergast for first place. You could have gotten 50 to that Pendergast would have won. Quite naturally it was a surprise when Henry beat the New York crack. Then it came out that Henry won the event with a gun that he had never shot previous to the event. Not much has been heard of Henry since.

Last year George Lorimer, of Troy, O., the inventor of the automatic telephone, after an absence of 15 years from the traps came back and won the event—and with a gun he had never shot before. He put the gun to his shoulder before the event started, it fitted, he bought it and went out and won.

Ten years ago Riley Thompson went to Chicago from Calinsville, Mo. He didn't know whether to shoot or not. He hadn't been doing very good work at home. Thompson was persuaded to enter. When Thompson went to the final trap he had broken 80 straight and Harvey McMurchy had gone out with 99. Thompson needed every one to win. The crowd surged around thousands of men and women right behind the platform, but Thompson shot as if no one was around and broke all 26—for the only 100 that has ever been shot in the Grand American.

We have seen others since then that had the same chance as Thompson, but they all fell down when they realized that the crowd was watching their every shot. You've got to have a lot of nerve, or no nerves, when you get into a pinch. It's the fellow with the sand that comes through.

Oh, you Pete:

Remember Ratty Waters who tied the dishpan under Prof. Bunns car at Princeton? He's more seriously inclined now—sells high grade bonds! Ran smack into Ratty as he was hustling for his a.m. fodder with a Camel cigarette perched between his lips and looking as happy as a turtle on a log! It's a pretty art—this opening up the morning with a Camel!

Well sir, Pete, what Ratty rattled into my rafters would supply Camel selling stuff for a year! There's nothing to this cigarette game but Camels," said Ratty. "Their mellowness is a revelation and I never did run into such mildness in my life! And, when you figure that Camels have all the body any smoker wants—well, I just marvel that such a cigarette could be made! Ever get such refreshing flavor?

Pete, it was great to hear Ratty sing praises of Camels quality. And what a mouthful he said about Camels blend of choice Turkish and Domestic tobacco!

For instance, Ratty spread this: "Shorty, I can't stand the usual unpleasant cigarette taste and unpleasant cigarette odor! Camels are free from both! (100% OK, Pete!) And, they never tire my taste! When you pass by Camels you have slipped by your smoke signals!

Tried to get Ratty to put some of that sales talk on paper, but he came back:—"You tell 'em, old Kettle—you've got the sport!

Pete, Camels won Ratty's favor like they've won thousands of others! They'll win any man who gives them a chance!

REPRESENTATIVES OF FRANCE TO ATTEND LEGION CONVENTION

General Fayolle Designated as Delegate in Place of Marshal Foch

PARIS, Sept. 14.—General Marie Emile Fayolle, regarded as having more to do with the direct employment of American troops than any other French commander, will represent the French government at the coming convention of the American Legion in Cleveland. Marshal Foch, who was unable to accept the legion's invitation because of unsettled European conditions, requested that General Fayolle be designated, and Premier Millerand and Minister of War Le Fèvre acquiesced.

General Fayolle occupied the highest French command next to the marshal's during the closing phase of the war. He commanded group three of the French armies, two of which—those of Generals Mangin and De Gaulle—made counter-offensives July 18, 1918, in which the first, second, third, fourth, twenty-sixth, twenty-eighth and thirty-second American divisions were engaged.

General Fayolle expects to embark from Brest next Wednesday.

STATE AGENTS RAID NEILLSVILLE STILL THREE ARRESTED

NEILLSVILLE, Wis., Sept. 14.—Agents Payson and Parkinson, of the state prohibition enforcement office, swooped down on Clark county and made a dent in the distilling industry. They arrested Frank and Herman Dogen and Albert Roscoe, farmers living in the town of Beaver, and seized three copper stills, having a capacity of 12 gallons daily, 11 gallons of whisky, 75 gallons of raisin mash and 50 pounds of raisins. One rifle, a shotgun and two revolvers were found, but the men made no resistance when arrested and brought to Neillsville.

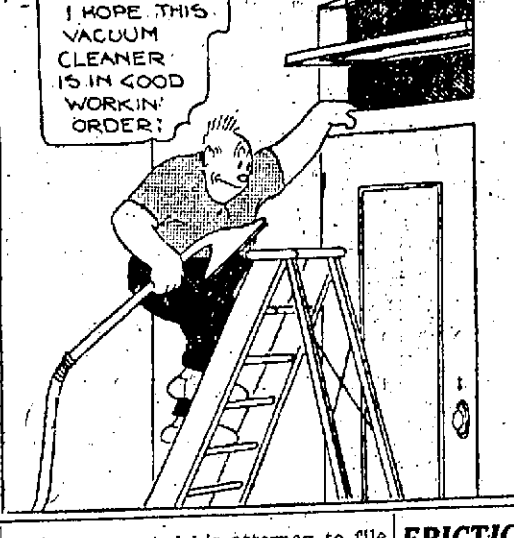

They were arraigned before Court Commissioner Kountz and released on $500 bonds each. They will be tried at the November term of circuit court.

Rumors of illicit distilling have been current for several weeks, but this is the first time a still has been located.

Almost As Hot As the Sun
Electric furnaces now in use have reached a temperature of 3500 degrees Centigrade, but recent experiments conducted in the research laboratory of one of the great manufacturing plants have resulted in the development of a furnace which gives a temperature of 4500 degrees Centigrade, which is sufficient to volatilize diamonds and is but 300 degrees less hot than the temperature of the sun.

LIFE INSURANCE POLICIES PAY LARGE SUMS TO LOCAL HEIRS DURING PAST YEAR

With $541,000 paid, La Crosse ranks 88th among cities of the country in which the largest amounts of life insurance were paid last year.

During 1919 a grand total of $1,843,500.00 was paid on life insurance policies in this country and Canada. This included death claims, matured endowments, and annuities, payment for premium savings and claims paid under the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. The largest amount paid one life was for $400,000 on the life of Henry C. Feick. The largest amount paid in Wisconsin was for $100,919 on the life of Frederick Robinson, Racine.

NEARLY 200 HERDS OF CATTLE TESTED DURING PAST MONTH

MADISON, Wis.—Dr. James S. Healy in charge of the cattle testing division of work for the State Department of Agriculture reports that during the month of August his division tested 183 herds of cattle in the state, numbering 4109 cattle. There were added to the accredited herds 29, making a total at this time of 331 herds in this state, absolutely free of any trace of tuberculosis. Beside the 331 herds, 908 herds have passed one negative test.

As a measure of economy, men's shirts now on sale in Germany are devoid of tails. They are buttoned on hooked and it seems that the tail is a non-essential.

The Peanut and Pigs
The common peanut grows in a peculiar way that is distinctly original. The little plant sends up its shoots, with the fruit on the end of a somewhat stiff stalk, and then before it ripens the stem bends over and carefully pushes the fruit underground. As pigs are said to be especially fond of these it has been suggested that the plant does this to hide its nuts from the porker's too inquisitive investigations.

Earl Originated the Sandwich
The sandwich, regarded as an American institution, is really of English origin. The Earl of Sandwich, who was in public life in London nearly two hundred years ago, was greatly given to games of chance and became intensely interested in them that he could not leave for meals. Accordingly he ordered the servants to bring him two slices of bread with some ham between which answered all purposes temporarily.

JOHNSON SENTENCED TO YEAR AND A DAY IN FEDERAL PRISON

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 14.—Jack Johnson, former world's heavyweight champion, was sentenced to one year and a day in Leavenworth penitentiary and fined $1,000 today by federal Judge George A. Carpenter for violation of the Mann act.

The sentence reaffirmed that passed on Johnson in 1913 when he was convicted of transporting a white girl from Pittsburgh to Chicago for immoral purposes.

Johnson later fled to Europe, forfeiting his $30,000 bonds, and from then until a few weeks ago, when he surrendered on the Lower California border, he was a fugitive from justice.

Johnson's first wife committed suicide during the trial in 1913 and he thereupon married Lucille Cameron, the principal white witness for the state.

Since his return to Illinois Johnson has been boxing in his jail cell, first at Joliet and later at Geneva, Illinois, in anticipation that he might be released and permitted to take up fighting again.

Johnson was smiling broadly when he entered the court-room. When sentence was passed, however, he appeared much cast down, as he had hoped for greater leniency. Permission was granted his attorney to file a writ of error and a stay of execution of the sentence was given until Saturday.

Judge Carpenter refused to release the prisoner and ordered him returned to the Geneva Jail.

It Is Easy to Lose An Unsightly Complexion
Have you ever exclaimed as you beheld your complexion in the mirror, "If I only could tear off this old skin!" And, do you know you can do that every thing? Not to actually remove the entire skin all of a sudden—that would be too heroic a method, and painful, too. The worn-out cuticle comes off in such tiny particles, and so gradually, it doesn't hurt a bit. Little by little the beautiful complexion underneath comes forth. Marvelous! No matter how muddy, rough, blotchy or freckled your complexion, you can surely discard it by this simple process. Just get an ounce of ordinary mercerized wax at your druggist's, apply nightly like cold cream, washing it off mornings. The result will be truly marvelous.

Wrinkles can be gotten rid of by an equally simple method. By dissolving an ounce of pure powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel and bathing your face in the solution, every fine line will completely disappear. First the fine lines, finally even the deep crows' feet.

FRICTION CAUSED IN SHOOTING WELL STARTS OIL BLAZE

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Sept. 14.—A flaming torch was towering high toward the skies in the Elk Hills today as the result of friction resulting when Well No. 7 on the Carman lease, owned by the Standard Oil company, came in with a roar, forcing 15,000,000 cubic feet of gas through its casing. The friction caused a spark which ignited the gas. Efforts were being made to extinguish the flames and cap the well by using huge boilers and mud flues.

Now Brush Teeth

In the new way—Remove the film

All statements approved by authorities

Try this new way of teeth cleaning. The test is free. It has brought to millions whiter, safer teeth. Leading dentists everywhere advise it. See the results, then learn what they mean to you.

What ruins teeth

Teeth are ruined by a film. You can feel it—that viscous coat. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. And most tooth troubles are now traced to it.

It is this film-coat that discolors—not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Now we combat it

Dental science has in late years found a way to fight film, day by day. High authorities have proved it by many careful tests.

Millions of people have adopted it, largely by dental advice. To careful people it is bringing a new era in teeth cleaning.

These new methods are all embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. And you are urged to prove it by a pleasant ten-day test.

Five important effects

Pepsodent has five effects, all of them essential to cleaner, safer teeth. One ingredient is pepsin. One multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva to combat starch deposits that cling. One multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva to neutralize mouth acids.

In two ways it attacks the films directly. Then it keeps the teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily cling.

It differs vastly from the old-time tooth pastes, which dentists now know were wrong.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears.

Within a week you will know that your teeth are protected as they never were before. And you will always want your teeth to look and feel like that. Cut out the coupon now.

DEATH OF MOVIE STAR ACCIDENTAL DECLARE DOCTORS

Judge Grants Permit for Removal of Body of Olive Thomas from Paris

PARIS.—The autopsy on the body of Olive Thomas, American motion picture actress, who died in the American hospital at Neuilly last Friday, was performed on Monday by Dr. Taul, official physician of the city of Paris, in the presence of five American doctors. Dr. Joseph Choate, who had charge of Miss Thomas during her illness, represented her family.

The doctors concluded that death was due to "poisoning through intoxication with a sublimate" taken accidentally.

Judge Pamart Monday night granted a permit for removal of the body of Miss Thomas, which will be sent to the United States on the first available boat.

Jack Pickford, husband of the actress, who fled Paris Monday, went to London in an airplane, accompanied by Owen Moore. It was understood Pickford would return here on Wednesday.

Pickford, in making a sworn statement, said he and his wife returned to the Ritz hotel, weary from a night of celebration. They had made a complete round of the Montmartre cafes, he said. Pickford had gone to bed when he heard a cry for help, and, running to the bathroom, found his wife with a bottle of poison. She was unable to speak, her throat having been burned by the poison, Pickford said. Miss Thomas was given antidotes, then hurried to a hospital.

The flight of Pickford to London astonished Paris. He left no address. And with his departure all members of the party which proved fatal to the film actress faded hastily from the scene.

Think well of the Dealer who is thinking of You

OBservers of changing conditions know there has never been a time in the history of the retail business in this country when quality and economy ideas—and the dealers who stand for those ideas—had such a hold on the public.

A demand is now sweeping over the country for better—more serviceable—more economical merchandise.

The straightforward dealer knows this.

He knows that once public confidence is established, a dealer's success is assured—that the public is only going to continue to buy from dealers whom it can trust and esteem—men who always place the interest of their customers first.

That is why, in the stores of over a quarter million dealers in this country, you will always find the Gillette out where you can see and examine it.

On top of the counter—in the show window—ready to be handed out first whenever a man comes in looking for a razor.

The Gillette is the only scientific shaving instrument ever produced.

It started—not with a theory or a desire to sell razors—but with the actual shaving needs of men everywhere.

And working from that, it developed into a personal shaving service—a service that has gone 'round the world and changed the shaving habits of thinking men everywhere.

Whenever or wherever the topic of a good shave comes up, the Gillette habit is always the final answer.

Vouched for and acknowledged by twenty million men the world over as one of the cleanest, safest, most economical, most valuable habits they have ever formed.

The dealer who hands you a Gillette is thinking first of your interests. Think well of him.
